Sprint 3 Summary

During this sprint, we made significant progress by implementing a substantial portion of the product. Most of the core features have been successfully developed and are now ready for testing in the next Scrum cycle. However, due to time constraints, a few additional features, such as chat room functionalities, room furniture, mini-games, and voting mechanisms, could not be completed. These features remain pending and some will need to be prioritized in the upcoming sprints to ensure the product's overall functionality and user experience are fully realized.

Successes

- Successfully completed all the tasks planned for this sprint.
- Achieved significant milestones by integrating most of the core features as scheduled.

Challenges

- Encountered numerous bugs during the integration of multiple modules.
- Debugging and resolving these issues required additional time and effort, which slightly impacted progress on secondary features.
- Ensuring seamless compatibility between different modules proved to be a complex task.
